Sports Studies

Why choose Sports Studies:

“The majority who study Physical Education do so because it builds upon previous sporting experiences and allows pupils to develop their knowledge and understanding of specific roles and responsibilities, therefore encouraging competitive excellence in their chosen activities.

Sport studies supports a wide range of future study and careers such as sport, leisure, journalism, coaching, management, psychology and teaching. Students can then study Sport Studies A 'level or Btec's and on to University to study courses in sport studies, sports management, sports exercise studies, sports managements, sports business and coaching.

What will I study?

- Contemporary issues in sport - barriers to taking part in sport and why we take part in sports.
- Developing sports skill – This is within teams and individual sports and being able to officiate in the sports.
- Sports leadership - knowing what a good leader is and be able to lead sessions.
- Sport in the media - the positive and negative influences of media on sport.

Who would this course suit?

If you are eager and inquisitive to develop your performance in sport and curiosity and dedication to learn about the knowledge that embeds and enhances these sports performance
